Dancer Spotlight: Bob Fosse!

Did you know that some of the jazz moves we see today were made famous by one legendary choreographer? Bob Fosse was a Broadway dancer and choreographer known for his unique style, including turned-in knees, jazz hands, shoulder rolls, tilted hats, and lots of personality! He choreographed famous musicals like Chicago and Sweet Charity. His style was so distinctive that dancers can often recognize a "Fosse move" just by watching it. Next time you're in jazz class, you might just be doing a little dance history without even knowing it!
